

NIGERIAN INSTITUTE OF ADVANCED LEGAL STUDIES

CALL FOR PAPERS

NIALS Journal of Law and Development – Uche Ngwaba

The Journal welcomes submission of articles, case law review, short notes on recent developments and commentaries on broad spectrum of law and its intersection with development. Submissions are welcome on topical issues in developments as well as a comparative study of the treatment of developmental issues on other jurisdictions. uche.ngwaba@gmail.com

International Journal of Law and Security – Enuma Moneke

The Journal welcomes submission of articles, case law review, short notes on recent developments and commentaries on issues of law and security such as cyber security, terrorism, cyber crime, ethnic/religious crisis. It also welcomes submissions on the interface between law and security and the global trends in addressing these issues.

Constitutional Law Forum – Professor Mike Ikhariale

The Journal welcomes submissions of articles, case law review, shorts on recent developments and commentaries on current issues and discourse of the Constitution. It also welcomes submissions that explore the treatment of these issues in other jurisdictions.

NIALS Supreme Court Review – Shankyula Samuel Tersoo

The Journal welcomes submissions of articles, case law review, short notes on recent developments and commentaries on landmark cases by the Supreme Court in varied areas of the law.

International Journal of Legislative Drafting – David Oluwagbami

The Journals welcomes submissions of articles, case law review, short notes on recent developments and commentaries on legislative drafting, law making and judicial interpretation of legislations in Nigeria and other jurisdictions.

Nigerian Journal of Criminal Justice Reform – Dr. Chinyere Ani

The Journal welcomes submissions of articles, case law review, short notes on recent developments and commentaries on criminal justice reform in Nigeria, such as access to justice, treatment of victims and victims' rights, criminal adjudication in Nigeria.

International Journal of Telecommunication Law – Professor Animi Awah

The Journal welcomes submissions on articles, case law review, short notes on recent developments and commentaries on telecommunication law and practice in Nigeria.

NIALS Journal of African and Comparative Law – Mrs. Ngozi Udombana

The Journal welcomes submissions of articles, case law review, short notes on recent developments and commentaries on any area of African law, Customary Law and Practice and Sharia Law and the interface between these different aspects of African law and International law.

Nigerian Journal of Business Law – Professor Paul Idornigie

The Journal welcomes submissions of articles, case law review, short notes on recent developments and commentaries on current issues on business practice and regulation in Nigeria, such as finance and taxation as well as comparative study of business practice and regulation in other jurisdictions.

NIALS Journal of Environmental Law – Professor Olanrewaju Fagbohun

The Journal welcomes submission of articles, case law review, short notes on recent developments and commentaries on current issues on business practice and regulation in Nigeria, such as finance and taxation as well as comparative study of business practice and regulation in other jurisdiction.

NIALS Journal of Law and Public Policy – Dr. Adebisi Arewa

NIALS Journal of Intellectual Property – Professor Adebambo Adewopo

NIALS Journal of Law and Gender – Joke Adediran & Enuma Moneke

NIALS Maritime Law Journal – Osato Eruaga

The NIALS Maritime Law Journal is a publication devoted to a discussion on maritime issues. The journal seeks to publish works on the examination of maritime and maritime related legislations; both local and international, international conventions and maritime as well as judicial decisions in the maritime sector. osato.eruaga@gmail.com

NIALS Journal of Air and Space Law – Joke Adediran

NIALS Journal of Air and Space Law is a journal in the field of air and space law published by the Nigerian Institute of Advanced Legal Studies. The Institute is making a call for submission of articles, case law review, short notes on recent developments and commentaries on issues concerning AIR AND SPACE LAW both within and outside Nigeria. The journal seeks to present information on pressing issues pertaining to aviation and space law. It aims to provide a forum for scholars and practitioners in aviation and space law to exchange ideas and information concerning aero space activities and also address new developments bordering on aviation policy and the civil; criminal; administrative and penal aspects of air and space law. The objective of the journal is to educate, enlighten and affect governmental policies in the aviation and space industry; as such, discourses on issues on aviation and space law in other jurisdictions are welcome.

All materials should be clearly typed, double-spaced, on A4 paper. Submission should preferably be electronic and should be sent to the following e-mail address in Microsoft Format. jokediran77@yahoo.com

The citation for the journal is in the following style: NJAS Vol.1 (2013)

NIALS Current Law Review Journal – Professor Bolaji Owasanoye

The Nigerian Institute of Advanced Legal Studies is making a call for submission of unpublished, innovative and original articles from the academia, Bar, Bench, Legal Practitioners in both private and public sector, including inter-governmental and non-governmental organizations to the above listed Journals. The Institute also welcomes notes on recent developments, case law review and commentaries. Articles are accepted twice a year. Manuscripts should be submitted in British English, with both text and footnote typed and double space. Authors should also submit an abstract of not more than 200 words, enclosing a cover letter and resume. Submissions should include: email addresses and phone numbers. Articles submitted to the Editor in Chief must not have been published, submitted or accepted elsewhere. bowasanoye@yahoo.com

NIALS JOURNAL OF CONSTITUTIONAL LAW (TO BE CITED AS NJCL (Vol.1) 2013) - Osato Eruaga

The Nigerian Institute of Advanced Legal Studies is making a call for submission of articles, case law review, short notes on recent developments and commentaries on issues of CONSTITUTIONAL LAW. Submissions dealing with the notification of and monitoring of National Constitutional Orders of other jurisdictions are also welcome.

Constitutional Law in any State defines State powers as well as constitutes and delineates the organs of government. In addition to dealing with the organization of state and government, constitutional law also concerns itself with the relationship between government and citizens, more specifically with the rights and privileges of the individual vis-à-vis the state. The superior nature of Constitutional law vis-à-vis other aspects of law requires that detailed and constant scholarly consultations be undertaken to keep the issues to which the subject matter relates, in agreement with present realities. As such, Constitutional law remains a major focus of legal studies and research in the Institute.

The NIALS Journal of Constitutional Law is dedicated to the advancement of legal knowledge in the field of Constitutional Law both on a national and on an international scale. By encouraging the voicing of various perspectives in Constitutional law issues, the Journal endorses an approach towards a coherent understanding of Constitutional Law and prepares the ground for novel answers to the challenges arising from the constantly changing global legal framework that arises from issues such as the interplay within and between governments of different jurisdictions and the expectations of citizens from their respective governments. By connecting different systems of Constitutional Law on a national and international level, the Journal allows the exploration of any resultant tension and the congruence, both within and between constitutional networks, and to further create the appropriate avenue for discussion and development of workable solutions. Featuring high-standard scholarly contributions, the NIALS Constitutional Law Journal aims to provide a forum for critical discussion on topics of Constitutional Law by focusing and monitoring on recent developments in National Constitutional Orders, and assessing case law on the subject from various jurisdictions and providing information on comparative constitutional developments, relevant to both legal practitioners as well as academicians. osato.eruaga@gmail.com

NIALS JOURNAL OF ALTERNATIVE DISPUTE RESOLUTION - Prof Paul Obo Idornigie, PhD (Editor)

The Nigerian Institute of Advanced Legal Studies is pleased to announce the addition of the NIALS JOURNAL OF ALTERNATIVE DISPUTE RESOLUTION to its family of excellent journals. The journal which is to be cited as NIALS JADR will be published biannually. Its focus is on providing information about recent developments in alternative dispute resolution, including recent case law and academic research. The formidable Editorial Board seeks to publish articles that expand theoretical and practical knowledge in the realms of negotiation, conciliation, mediation, arbitration, dispute resolution boards and other forms of alternative dispute resolution (ADR). Each article must focus on some issue of relevance to those who study, teach, and/or practice ADR.

Manuscripts should be submitted in British English, with both text and footnote typed and double spaced. Articles should be between 25-30 pages double line spacing in Times New Roman font including footnotes. Authors should also submit an abstract of not more than 200 words. Articles submitted must not have been published, submitted or accepted elsewhere. Manuscripts should be sent by email to prof@paulidornigie.org. It is preferred that Articles be submitted in Microsoft Word format.

Articles for publication must be received not later than 31st March, 2013. Thereafter, articles will be received on an ongoing basis. Please find attached the guidelines for authors submitting articles for publication. prof@paulidornigie.org.

Kindly make electronic submissions to portal@nials-nigeria.org

Submissions will preferably be electronic. Submissions via post should be in a CD Drive and sent to either of the addresses below:

LAGOS OFFICE:

Nigerian Institute of Advanced Legal Studies
University of Lagos Campus,
P.M.B 12820,
Akoka – Lagos.

ABUJA OFFICE:

Nigerian Institute of Advanced Legal Studies
Supreme Court Complex,
Three Arms Zone,
P.M.B 385, Garki-Abuja